

Cultures of Climate

Call for submissions (Cultures of Climate publication)

Centre for Cultural Ecologies
in Art, Design and Architecture

We invite expressions of interest (EOIs) for contributions to Cultures of Climate, a forthcoming publication exploring the role of arts and humanities in understanding, representing, and responding to climate breakdown. We welcome diverse formats of engagement, fostering dialogues and creative responses to the climate crisis across the arts and humanities.

Formats and Themes: Submissions
may take the following forms:

- Reviews of exhibitions or books (up to 1000 words)
- Write-ups of creative practice (up to 2000 words)
- Position papers (up to 3000 words)
- Knowledge & cultural exchange projects (up to 2000 words)
- Interviews (up to 2000 words)
- Visualisations of climate (1 page)

We encourage submissions that explore themes such as (but not limited to):

- Exploring themes of climate in the Arts and Humanities curriculum.
- Localised, community and place-based approaches to climate action in and through visual culture
- Art and design innovations in tackling climate challenges
- Migratory aesthetics and the Panicocene
- Climate anxiety and creative approaches to health and wellbeing
- New forms of learning in climate breakdown or climate hope through the environmental humanities
- Ecological or regenerative practices that challenge dominant social, political, and economic conventions
- Arts and Culture's contribution to Sustainable Development Goals
- Experiences of land trauma and Solastalgia from the perspective of land dependent communities.

Submission Guidelines:

To be considered, please submit an Expression of Interest. Your EOI should include:

- Title
- Brief description of your proposed submission (max. 300 words)
- Your name
- Short bio-note (100 words max.)
- Contact details

Call for submissions (deadline for abstracts: Saturday 31 May 2025)

Please submit EOIs using this form: <https://forms.office.com/e/KtmyWmZvEE>.

We will aim to respond to EOIs by Friday 13th June. Selected contributors will be invited to submit full pieces for consideration. If you plan to submit images for 'Visualisations of Climate' please include links in your abstract. The deadline for full pieces will be 1st September 2025 and can be submitted to culturesof@hud.ac.uk

We look forward to receiving your proposals and fostering meaningful discussions on the cultures of climate.

For any enquiries about the submission, please email: culturesof@hud.ac.uk
